WAF 2013

World Architecture Festival is the world's largest festival and live awards competition dedicated to celebrating, and sharing architectural excellence from across the globe.

Now we are six! At this grand old age World Architecture Festival has welcomed over 10,000 attendees to date, including a whopping 1,900 in 2012. Singapore is WAF's home for the second year running, providing the perfect backdrop to this truly global architectural extravaganza.

The WAF awards are the global industry benchmark for excellence. Even to be recognised as a finalist is to prove your design credentials to the industry, to your peers and your clients.

Anyone can enter and anyone can win. Previous winners have varied from Zaha Hadid to Peter Rich, designer of the Mapungubwe Interpretation Centre in Limpopo, South Africa.

WAF winners will not only receive the much coveted WAF trophy, but will be guaranteed coverage in the world's design and mainstream press, and be automatically seen as a key player in the global architectural landscape. No wonder the WAF awards are the global architectural accolades to win!

All projects that are entered into the awards are exhibited in the festival's award gallery, listed in the official guide and permanently featured on worldbuildingsdirectory.com. Finalists will be published on worldarchitecturefestival.com and the websites of the festival's media partners, which include Dezeen, The Architectural Review and The Architect's Newspaper, as well as presenting live at the festival for WAF's illustrious judges.

2013's judges are as impressive as ever and include Dietmar Eberle of Baumschlagler Eberle, Jeanne Gang of Studio Gang, Patrick Bellew from Atelier Ten and Ken Tadashi Oshima from the University of Washington.

Over the next ten pages you will see 2012's prestigious award winners, a snapshot of the very finest global architecture taking place today.

To be in their place next year all you have to do is enter WAF. You can enter any of the award categories listed in the brochure. Entries are open from 4 March to the 24 May 2013.

We look forward to seeing your entries and welcoming you to Singapore in October.

World Building of the Year 2012

"It has been amazing to be part of the WAF award winning team. When you look across the range and quality of projects put forward for the WAF awards, to be shortlisted and then become associated with the overall winner is a momentous achievement for Grant Associates."

Keith French
Director, Grant Associates

"WAF has completely liberated me and my practice. We are doing work of a calibre and scale that would never have before been possible without the credibility and respect that winning at WAF have given us."

INSIDE is back at WAF
for 2013.
Celebrating the finest interiors from
the world.

INSIDE is a buzzing hub for creative thought, mutual inspiration and idea exchange – capturing the design zeitgeist in style over three electrifying days.

At the festival's heart is the international awards programme, pitching the planet's most exciting designers against each other. An INSIDE award could make your career.

INSIDE has a host of illustrious judges that all INSIDE finalists will present to and receive live feedback from, including Nigel Coates, Lyndon Neri, Eero Koivisto and Pernilla Ohrstedt.

You could be one of the winners. If your practice has created an outstanding space in the last year you can enter it to win one of 14 awards. You could even walk away with World Interior of the Year.

Categories include display, retail, hotel, bar and restaurant, transport, office, creative reuse, culture and civic, residential, digital, instillation, education and health.

Entries are open from 4 March to 24 May. For full details visit insidefestival.com.

Entries open 4 March 2013

Why enter WAF?

Enter WAF 2013 to showcase your work at the world's largest annual, global architectural festival – every single entry is exhibited in our awards gallery and listed in the official event guide to be viewed by more than 2,000 visitors from over 65 countries.

Promote your work on the global stage – all entries receive permanent listing on worldbuildingsdirectory.com, the definitive global architecture archive that receives over 21,000 visits per month. Finalists will be listed on the websites of WAF's media partners which include The Architectural Review, Dezeen, DesignBoom and ArchDaily. WAF is your passport to the international architecture scene.

Join the ranks of the architectural elite who are proud owners of a WAF award including Zaha Hadid Architects, Snøhetta, Isay Weinfeld, Turenscape and Foster + Partners. Prove your talent to peers and clients alike.

“After winning at WAF we received invitations for collaborations from different countries including Qatar, Kuwait, Turkey and Russia. Through WAF we have been able to establish valuable knowledge transfer contracts.”

Enric Ruiz Geli, Director, Cloud 9

Be celebrated by your peers and the leading voices in global architecture

– all shortlisted entrants present to and receive live feedback and commendation from WAF's esteemed international jurors, who include Kim Nielsen, 3XN; Richard Hassell, WOHA; Michael Cox, Cox Rayner Architects, plus many more.

Be invited to judge at WAF 2014

– All category and overall winners will be invited to judge at WAF 2014. Be at the centre of the global architectural community and establish your practice as international design thought leaders.

Generate global PR and raise your profile – the WAF awards generate 6,000 news articles in over 65 countries. Coverage in 2012 included articles on BBC Worldwide, CNN, Sky News, The Daily Telegraph and The Straits Times.

Be the proud owner of the WAF yellow W trophy – win one of architecture's most respected awards, including World Building or Future Project of the Year, and be put on a fast-track to global industry recognition. All category and section winners will be publicised globally and work with WAF's international PR consultancy FTI Consulting to further increase their visibility.
